

France Again Made Victim Of Nazi Deal

By JACK FLEISCHER

STOCKHOLM, March 26.—The Nazis have persuaded the satellite Rumanian government to furnish more men and provisions by a deal which victimized occupied
France, informed sources said today.

These sources said that Premier Ion Antonescu balked at a new agreement with Germany mainly because he had extended heavy credits to the Nazis and had little indication the bills would ever be paid.

The Nazis overcame his opposition, it was understood, by assuming the Rumanian debt to France, reducing 38,000,000,000 lei, and deducting that sum from the German debt to Rumania. It was pointed out the Nazis could pay off France with occupation marks set at artificial rates.

As a result, Rumania was said to have promised to continue deliveries of oil and farm products and press her persecution of Jews and anti-Nazi elements.

PROMISE TROOPS

Antonescu, it was said, had promised to meet a German demand for 500,000 troops but it was doubtful he could make good.

In another deal with the Nazis, Antonescu was reported to have agreed to speed up deportation of Jews and stamp out oppositionist elements providing Germany would turn over fugitive Rumanian Iron Guards who were in Germany.

Antonescu reportedly assented but later sent a note informing Rumania that the Iron Guardsists who had captured German citi-

Nazis Say Torpedo Boats Are Attacked

LONDON, March 26.—(CP)—The German radio broadcast a claim from the international information bureau today that British torpedo boats were attacked off Dieppe, France, last night and that one craft was sunk and others were hit. The international information bureau, a German news and propaganda agency, carries stories which D.N.B. the German news agency, does not wish to report on its own authority.

The German broadcast claimed the boats were intercepted while en route to attack German sea convoy routes.

Compulsory Dental Care For Children

Advocated in Sask.

REGINA March 26.—(CP)—The College of Dental Surgeons of Saskatchewan urged compulsory dental health insurance for all children up to the age of 16 when a delegation appeared before the legislative select special committee on social relief. The delegation stated there was sufficient dentists available to render such service.

The delegation said that any health insurance plan omitting essential preventive dental services would be undesirable. The childhood period was the most

Two Motions Defeated Opposition Groups in House Force Three Full Divisions Before Adoption of Budget

OTTAWA, March 26.—(CP)—Opposition groups forced three full divisions of the House of Commons last night before the budget motion was adopted, paving the way for committee consideration of its detailed tax and tariff resolutions.

Army to Grant Farm Leaves For Soldiers

OTTAWA, March 26.—(CP)—Defence Minister Ralston told the House of Commons yesterday the army will make every effort to assist agriculture by granting farm leaves to soldiers, but he said he did not "want hopes raised too high."

He tabled army regulations governing farm leaves and said they required that soldiers apply for leave to their commanding officers. Men eligible for farm leave would be those experienced in farm work who could be of service due regard to the military situation.

These would be personnel on the home war establishments of district districts, namely the administrative and training staffs, members of the Veterans' Guard, trained personnel stationed at district depots who were not awaiting movement overseas or elsewhere, and up to five per cent of troops on operational duties in Canada, providing the men selected had completed their individual training and were not earmarked for overseas.

Bracken Plans To Strengthen National Unity

LACHUPE, Que., March 26.—(CP)—John Bracken, Progressive Conservative leader, said in an address here last night that he was bringing to the federal level the ambition to increase national unity.

"I should like to think," he told an Argentine county audience as he opened a tour of the province of Quebec, "if I am called upon to accept heavier responsibilities that when I come to the end of my administration there will be a great deal more of unity in Canada than exists now."

Mr. Bracken's tour, his first official visit to Quebec since he named head of the Progressive Conservative party in December, will last for 10 days or two weeks. In his address here last night the Progressive Conservative leader said:

"On this, my first visit to the province of Quebec, I am delighted to see the spirit of unity that exists between the representatives of the two great original races of this country. When I was first called to public life in the province of Manitoba, one of my chief ambitions was to bring about that province a greater degree of unity and understanding."

"After 20 years of service as premier of that province I am happy to say that at no time in its history has such unity and goodwill existed between the different races and economic groups. That makes up its population. That is my ambition for the future."

Mr. Bracken outlined his personal philosophy. "It was a simple one," he said. "I think our civilization has got enough unless it can advance to every generation to have a job, the opportunity to have his own living."

That meant, the Progressive Conservative leader said, that the men and women employed in Canada must not go back to unemployment after this war, like they did after the last one. It meant also that the two-thirds of a million men in uniform will not be given periods of idleness after they take the uniform off. It meant, also, for every man to receive fair pay for his work; the right enterprise to receive fair treatment from society.

"I suppose," said Mr. Bracken, "that private enterprise will come out of every 10 jobs in Canada. So we must not discourage enterprise, but encourage it as we can get the maximum employment, to the extent that enterprise fails to give employment the state must step in to do so."

Ottawa Suspends Postal Surcharge On Publications

OTTAWA, March 26.—(CP)—A postage surcharge of four cents imposed on the advertising portion of newspapers and periodicals which have more than ten per cent of their space devoted to advertising is suspended under an order-in-council published yesterday in Canadian war orders and regulations.

The order was passed on the recommendation of the post office department and the Prime Minister. Economies in the use of newspaper would be possible if publishers were allowed to adjust editorial and reading matter and advertising content at their discretion without penalty in increased postal rates, the order said.

Daily War Map—Exclusively in the Edmonton Bulletin

The above map of Tunisia shows the present battle line and the progress made by American forces in their eastward advance. The map also indicates the positions of Axis forces, and it will be seen that they are well situated to strike at the flank and rear of German forces defending the Mareth line.

people's representatives, he continued. Committees should call the best advisers regardless of who they were. Conclusions should be approved by the popular, not the party, vote of parliament.

"Instead we find, most of the time, that the decisions are carried out and settled before the people's representatives," said Mr. Hanson.

MEET IN CAMERA
The appropriate committee could meet with Mr. Edén in camera if necessary. He could "lay the cards on the table" in respect to post-war matters.

Vice-President Henry Wallace of the United States, Graham Towers, bank of Canada governor, Dr. W. C. Clark, deputy finance minister, and others might be called before the committee.

Mr. Hanson said he would like to ask them why they could not solve the pre-war depression. "Why is it they can find money to beat Hitler with bombs but not to beat him with food?" he asked.

Money could be provided for battleships, but a few extra dollars to provide a cost-of-living bonus for the aged could not be obtained. Mr. Blackmore said the C.C.F. sub-amendment to the budget would remove entirely the New Democratic sub-amendment, which indicated that the two groups were diametrically opposed on monetary policy.

WOULD CONFUSE ISSUE
The C.C.F. sub-amendment served to confuse the issue at a time when it should be kept as clear as possible.

The clear issue was "Is there another source of money without borrowing and without debt?" If there is another source of money there was hope for Canada, but if no other source existed there was no hope for the future.

Interest and debt-free money could be issued even if there were no national or chartered banks, as was done by the treasury department in the First Great War.

Nationalization of the banks, as proposed by the C.C.F. group, would not solve the money problem, provide any source of debt-free money that did not already exist.

The Bank of Canada was nationally-owned yet the government borrowed from it and from the chartered banks. Personally, he said, he believed that chartered banks should be privately-owned.

Mr. Maclestin said Hitler's National Socialism had not seemed so abhorrent to Conservatives some years ago. He quoted Hon. Dr. R. Hanson, former Conservative leader, as saying that if Hitler had stopped at a certain point in Germany he might have been seen as a German hero.

Mr. Edén held a unique position in world affairs and it was proper he should appear before an appropriate committee. It was not necessary that details of all discussions on the post-war period should be published, but the people's representatives had the right to know "what is going on behind the scenes."

Alberta Court Is Asked to Rule On Rent System

CALGARY, March 26.—(CP)—Alberta Appeal court will be asked to clarify Canada's entire system of rent control, according to a notice of appeal filed at the court house yesterday.

In a stated case, Magistrate D. C. Sheppard has submitted six questions concerning rent control, to be answered by the judges who will sit at Calgary starting April 12.

The case arose when Magistrate Sheppard contended the firm on a charge of collecting rent in excess of the maximum for accommodation, the fine was $5 and costs.

NATURE OF CHARGE
The firm was charged that it "did demand, receive or collect rent" on the property in excess of the maximum rent fixed by orders 7 and 21 of the Wartime Prices and Trade board and "did thereby contravene leasehold regulations as to a notice of appeal filed at the court house yesterday."

H. S. Patterson, K.C., counsel for the firm, raised the objection that there was a conflict between regulations issued by the Wartime Prices and Trade board, 1941, issued by the governor-in-council.

According to the stated case counsel admitted that the property was rented prior to May 1, 1940, at $20 a month and subsequently at $35 a month.

SUBMITS QUESTIONS
The magistrate has submitted the following questions to appeal court:

1.—Did Order-in-Council P.C. 806, 1941, establish a maximum rental for real property in Canada and did the basic date fixed by said order-in-council apply to the property in question?

2.—Did the said order-in-council repeal or supersede orders 7 and 21 of the Wartime Prices and Trade board?

3.—Does the definition of "landlord" in the Wartime Prices and Trade board order 108 include a trustee?

4.—Were the various orders of the Wartime Prices and Trade board admissible as evidence in the circumstances?

5.—In the alternative, did the War Measures Act, chapter 28, of the Revised Statutes of Canada, 1927, give to the governor-in-council power to make orders or regulations relating to evidence?

6.—Is the conviction valid by reason of the fact that the information charged and the conviction are for more than one act of commission, contrary to section 110 (3) of the Criminal Code?

Non-Partisan Meet To Select Nominee For U.S. Presidency

WASHINGTON, March 26.—(AP)—Senator William Langer (Rep., N.D.) yesterday announced plans for a national non-partisan convention to select a presidential nominee and then thrust what he called the intentions of "millionaire monopolists" and "predatory interests" to dominate the post-war world.

In a speech to the senate, he said that he and two other persons whom he did not identify would call upon leaders in every precinct in the United States to summon the people to meet at the leaders' homes.

There, Langer said, "delegates will meet close at hand, week after week at the country or parish courthouse. These delegates will be chosen to meet at a state convention and there, delegates will be chosen to meet at a national convention."

Ascot to Open After 4 Years

England's Racing Program Nearing Last Season Mark

BY ALLAN NICKELSON

LONDON, March 26—(CP)—Despite a vast pinners' movement against all things extraneous to the war effort, plus the possibility this may be the decisive year of the conflict, England's flat-racing program for the first half of 1943 approximates closely that of last season.

It's just added proof—not that any is needed—that Britain's government considers such sport, along with soccer, boxing, tennis and all the others, as essential to the morale and relaxation of a country fighting for its life.

The racing list, issued by the jockey club and approved by government heads, has 29 programs extended over 27 actual racing days, compared with 42 programs in 30 days for the first half of last season. Racing's first half opens at Windsor, April 10 and ends July 24.

Only additional track to the live in use last season will be Ascot, royal course which has been without racing for four years. There will be none of the pageantry that featured Ascot in peacetime. For instance, the Gold Cup, race item on the program, Ascot turf, will be staged July 7 at Newmarket.

As in 1942, southern England racing will be confined to Windsor, Salisbury and Newmarket with the addition of Ascot while Blackburn and Pontefract cater to northern crowds.

Racing again will be confined to regional lines, except for the classic Derby Oaks. The Derby and Guineas and One Thousand Guineas and St. Leger and the Coronation Cup Queen Mary Stakes, Coventry Stakes and Gold Cup All will be run at Newmarket and are open to every stable in Britain.

Premier event—the Derby—takes place June 19 along with the Coventry Stakes. The Oaks will be run the day previous to the Derby. The Two Thousand Guineas runs May 18 with the One Thousand Guineas the following day. Instead of eight meetings, each of two days, Newmarket will have 12 days of racing, two of the meetings are of one day each.

The sport, generally, is concentrated on week-ends.

Pimlico May Get 20 Days of Races

WALTON, March 26—(AP)—The chances were excellent for 20 days of horse racing this spring at Pimlico, instead of the scheduled 15, and track officials said war charities will benefit if the extra five days are approved.

There are still some 10,000 men, women and children in the United States who are waiting for the war to end, and one of them is a bill now pending before the Maryland legislature to grant the state racing commission authority to extend the number of racing days at any one track from 15 to 20.

However, the racing commission will not extend the season unless the state legislature grants the authority.

Leaf Bantams Are Entertained

Maple Leaf bantam hockey players, 40 strong—were entertained by officials of the club last night. The four teams were first taken to the Bantam, then were entertained by the Eastern Community Hall for a supper.

At a meeting held subsequently, a four-team bantam league was organized.

Officials of the club in charge were Arthur Jackson, Frank Donahue, James King, Eric Simpson and Frank Clayton. Girls from the "Sixth Floor" of the Civic block were invited for the banquet.
